NAWEE™ (North American Wind Energy Enterprises) has been in conversation with the Blackfoot Native American Tribe, for the last four months, about participation in a green renewable energy plant, which produces jet-fuel for the Department of Defense (D.O.D.).

We have the site preferred at junction of Highway 2 and Valier Highway, which gives us a radius of 50 miles of crop base. The plant we propose can produce 100-million gallons, in two years. We have talked to farmers in our 50 mile radius, and all have agreed a plant start-up is necessary for them to plant camelina, but, all said they would be more than happy and willing to plant camelina if the plant was assured to be built and under construction.

The jobs that will be created by this plant, are between 50-150 to start. We plan to have on-job training and scholarships, for farm/agricultural colleges as well as all academia, to all students from the Tribe who qualify, and also, farm/agricultural training as specified by Tom Vilsack, Secretary of Agriculture, in his Young Farmer Training Program.

NAWEE™ and its program, as well as the Young Farmer Training Program, will work hand-in-hand, together, to help create a trained farm/ranch labor pool, providing jobs to Tribal members, and young people wanting to farm throughout the state of Montana.

We have already sent e-mails to the following:

- Tom Vilsack – Secretary of Agriculture
- Thomas W. Hicks – Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Navy

- Anthony Foxx – Secretary of Transportation
- Steven Chu – Secretary of Energy
- Lisa Jackson – Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency
- Brian Schweitzer – Montana Governor
- Jon Tester – Montana Senator
- Joe Biden – Vice President of the United States of America

We would like your participation in negotiations with the Blackfoot Native American Tribe, to make this plan a reality as soon as possible. Your input and timely suggestions to NAWEE™ and the Tribe will be greatly appreciated, and we look forward to hearing from you.

Thank You.

NAWEE™
